Chapter 11

OBJECTION TO ALLOWANCE OF
CLAIM FOR INTERNAL REVENUE
TAXES

Debtor Secured Diversified Investment, Ltd. ("SDF"), jointly with petitioning creditor Cane Clark, LLP, hereby submits its Objection to Allowance of the Claim for Internal Revenue Taxes (filed herein as Claim No. 1). The Proof of Claim filed by the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS Claim") for unpaid FUTA taxes and estimated unpaid income taxes is inaccurate. The Debtor has no FUTA or income tax liability for the periods described in the IRS Claim.

This Objection is supported by the following Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the concurrently filed Declaration of Munjit Johal together with all Exhibits thereto, the other pertinent pleadings and papers on file in this action, and the arguments of counsel to be made at hearing.

1 WHEREFORE, the movants respectfully request that the IRS Claim be disallowed in its
2 entirety.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIESI. PERTINENT FACTS

1. The IRS Claim, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A, claims unpaid FUTA taxes for 2005 in the amount of $14,566.90, plus related interest and penalties.

2. The Debtor's original FUTA tax filing for 2005 erroneously calculated the Debtor's unemployment tax based on the Debtor's wages paid, instead of only the initial $7,000 paid to each employee as provided by 26 U.S.C. §3306(b). (See, Johal Decl. at ¶ 2.)

In addition, the IRS did not have a copy of the State of California's certification of the Debtor's state-level unemployment contributions to the IRS. As a result, the IRS increased the Debtor's 2005 FUTA liability by denying the Debtor the credit allowed for contribution to the state unemployment funds under 28 U.S.C. §3302. (See, id.) A true and correct copy of the IRS's letter to the Debtor on this subject is attached to the Johal Declaration as Exhibit 1 thereto and is incorporated therein by reference.

3. On June 23, 2008, the Debtor filed an amended FUTA tax return for 2005. The amended return calculated the tax based on the appropriate amount of wages (i.e., the first $7,000 for each employee). A copy of this return was forwarded to the IRS together with a copy of the State of California's certification of unemployment contributions made by the Debtor for 2005. As shown by the amended return, the Debtor has no FUTA tax liability for 2005. (See, Johal Decl. at ¶ 3.) True and correct copies of the Debtor's June 23, 2008 letter to the IRS, together with the amended 2005 FUTA return and the California certification are attached to the Johal Declaration as Exhibit 2 thereto and are incorporated therein by reference.

4. The latest communication from the IRS regarding the Debtor's 2005 FUTA taxes was a letter dated July 11, 2008 stating that the matter was still being processed. (See, Johal Decl. at ¶ 4.) A true and correct copy of this letter is attached to the Johal Declaration as Exhibit 3 thereto and is incorporated therein by reference.

5. The IRS Claim also includes a claim for unpaid FUTA taxes for 2004 in the amount of $4,644.00, plus related interest and penalties.

6. The Debtor's original FUTA tax filing for 2004 also erroneously calculated the

1 Debtor's unemployment tax based on the Debtor's entire wages paid, instead of only the initial
2 $7,000 paid to each employee as provided by 26 U.S.C. §3306(b). (See, Johal Decl. at ¶ 6.) The
3 IRS wrote to the Debtor on June 13, 2008 and advised it of the error. A true and correct copy of 4 the IRS's letter on this subject is attached to the Johal Declaration at Exhibit 4 thereto and is
5 incorporated therein by reference.

6 7. On June 24, 2008, the Debtor filed an amended FUTA tax return for 2004. The 7 amended return calculated the tax based on the appropriate amount of wages (i.e., the first $7,000
8 for each employee). As shown by the amended return, the Debtor has no FUTA tax liability for 9 2004. A copy of this return was forwarded to the IRS together with a copy of the State of 10 California's certification of unemployment contributions made by the Debtor for 2004. (See, Johal
11 Decl. at ¶ 7.) True and correct copies of the Debtor's June 25, 2008 letter to the IRS, together with 12 the amended 2004 FUTA return and the California certification are attached to the Johal
13 Declaration as Exhibit 5 thereto and are incorporated therein by reference.

14 8. The latest communication from the IRS regarding the Debtor's 2004 FUTA taxes
15 was a letter dated July 10, 2008 stating that the matter was still being processed. (See, Johal Decl.
16 at ¶ 8.) A true and correct copy of this letter is attached to the Johal Declaration as Exhibit 6
17 thereto and is incorporated therein by reference.

18 9. The IRS Claim also includes estimated income taxes of $1,000 for 2006. At the 19 time the IRS Claim was filed, the Debtor had not filed its 2006 income tax return. A true and 20 correct copy of the Debtor's income tax return for 2006, which was filed on October 9, 2008, is 21 attached to the Johal Declaration as Exhibit 7 thereto and is incorporated therein by reference. As
22 shown on the Debtor's 2006 return, it does not owe income tax for 2006. (See, Johal Decl. at ¶ 9.)

23 10. The IRS Claim also includes estimated income taxes of $500 for 2007. The Debtor
24 has not filed its 2007 income tax return, but it expects to do so by the end of this month. The 25 Debtor expects that it will have no income tax liability for 2007. (See, Johal Decl. at ¶ 10.) The 26 Debtor will supplement this Objection as soon as its 2007 income tax return is filed.

1 II. ARGUMENT

2 11 U.S.C. §502(b) provides that a claim may be disallowed if “such claim is unenforceable
3 against the Debtor and property of the Debtor.” In this case, the amounts stated in the IRS Claim
4 are simply in error. The amounts claimed for 2004 and 2005 FUTA taxes are based on erroneous
5 returns filed by the Debtor in ignorance of the $7,000 per-employee wage limitation specified in
6 26 U.S.C. §3306(b), as well as the IRS’s apparent failure to receive proper records documenting
7 the Debtor’s 2005 credit for state contributions as allowed under 28 U.S.C. §3302. The Debtor’s
8 amended FUTA returns and related state documentation show that no FUTA tax is owed for 2004
9 and 2005. The IRS was apparently considering these amended returns at the time this case was 10 filed, but its proof of claim fails to take them into account. The small estimated claims for 2006
11 and 2007 income tax are also incorrect. As the filed 2006 income tax return shows, no tax is due.
12 The 2007 return, which the Debtor expects to file immediately, will also show no tax due for that 13 year.

14 III. CONCLUSION

15 For the reasons set forth above, the IRS Claim should be disallowed in its entirety.
